SPEAKING TOPICS:

Women – Ideal Franchise Owners

Are you tired of making less than what your male counterpart makes? Have you heard that women are opening businesses at a rate of over 1,000 per day? Did you know that African American women are fastest-growing group of Entrepreneurs in America? Learn why franchising is a great fit for women wanting to own their own business.

Franchise and Funding Matchmaking

There are a number of ways to determine what the right Franchise match for you is, and how to fund your new business based on your resources.

Find Your Passion and Implement A Process

Just because you're not fighting for world peace, doesn't mean you don't have a passion. But once you've identified that passion, where do you go from there?

BIO:

Nancy graduated from UCLA with a degree in Sociology. After owning an independent record label, partnering in a non-profit, and 14 years in Management at Sprint, she launched NValuable Franchise Consulting, Inc. In addition to consulting with domestic and international clients, Nancy conducts workshops, participates in business panel discussions, and is a Black Enterprise Content Contributor. Coming full circle as an Entrepreneur, Nancy is passionate about educating others on the empowerment of business ownership and the tremendous impact it has on individuals, families and communities.

Nancy is very professional and easy to work with. I appreciate her knowledge of our brand and her willingness to jump in and learn even more.

-Heidi Morrissey, VP Marketing / Sales, Kitchen Tune-Up

What I was impressed by most of all is how well Nancy really knew what her clients wanted and what they were thinking every step of the way. She was always engaged in her clients progress, which is rare for some Franchise consultants

-Tony Bello, Franchise Sales Specialist, Cruise Planners / American Express
